5. Has the trust always enabled patients to self-fund or has it only been introduced recently, eg past five years? I understand this may be difficult to answer.

There has been changing directive on this over the years. The rule of thumb that is now followed is that if the Trust can deliver self-pay/privately insured cases around NHS work without any negative effect then we do this, if there is a negative effect – usually due to resources available, then this work will be suspended. Typically the Trust does not allow private/self-funded work in the “winter” to enable us to tackle the NHS pressures that are occurring.
